Old Business:

- Terry Ruggles reported that he has talked to the City Council about possible plans for the area below the Wiley-Russell Dam project, and has been invited by Councilor Rudy Renaud to return at the next meeting. He said councilors seemed confused by his emphasis that it is the dam abutments that need repair, not the dam itself. He will try again. The emphasis is to continue to be that recovered the parking lot from its present owner and converting it to a small “pocket park” on the Green River is simply a fulfillment of the conclusions of the Green River Charrette, as well as the City’s Master Plan. Doing this project would be, in the opinion of the Committee, simply picking low hanging fruit, since the cost of such a project would be modest.
- A letter is to be sent to the mayor regarding the membership status of Douglas Cloutier, whose term expires this year.

Respectfully submitted: Tim Blagg, Secretary
